TRUSTEES' REPORT.

The Trustees of the Peabody Institute herein present their forty-fourth annual report to the citizens of Peabody.

Little remains to be added to the details, so fully given in the accompanying reports of the Treasurer of the Trustees, the Lyceum and Library Committee and its sub-committees, the Librarian's report, etc.

The introduction of the incandescent system of electric lighting into the library room, reading room, Trustees' room and lower hall, calls for special mention, as it is a much needed improvement, and makes the reading room, especially, a much more comfortable and healthful place in which to spend an hour, doing away with the noise, heat and bad air caused by the large number of gas jets necessary to afford sufficient light for those enjoying its privileges. It will also save, to quite an extent, the bindings of the books in the library room, and will effect quite a saving in the annual expense of lighting the building.

An excellent and acceptable course of lectures has been furnished by the Lyceum Committee.

The invested funds of the Institute, as shown by the report of the Treasurer, including real estate, now amount to one hundred and ninety-three thousand, six hundred forty-six dollars and fourteen cents ($193,646.14).

In conclusion, the Trustees desire to record their appreciation of the conscientious and intelligent services rendered by the Librarian, his Assistants and the Janitor.

ARTHUR F. POOLE,

For the Trustees.

PEABODY, Feb. 4, 1896.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

LYCEUM AND LIBRARY COMMITTEE.

TO THE TRUSTEES OF THE PEABODY INSTITUTE.

The accompanying reports from Sub-Committees and Librarians present in detail the work coming under charge of this Committee for the past year. The general condition of the Library and its future needs are carefully set forth by those having charge of its several divisions, and as I fully endorse the same, I see no necessity for an extended report, and therefore submit their views without further comment.

Respectfully,

H. F. WALKER,
Chairman Lyceum and Library Committee.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE.

TO THE LYCEUM AND LIBRARY COMMITTEE.

The Peabody Library Committee submit the following report for the year ending Feb. 1, 1896.

The number of books loaned from the Library has decreased quite materially in the past year. The figures for the circulation as given by the Librarian are, for the year 1894-5, 37,736, and for the year 1895-6, 28,762. This reduction is more than accounted for by the loss in the department of Fiction and Juveniles alone.

Attention may be called to the fact that the fluctuations in the number of books loaned from the Library are confined almost wholly to the single class of Fiction. The year 1894-5 showed an increased circulation of these books of about 4,000 over the year 1893-4, carrying the percentage for this class to 79, the largest in the history of the Library. This year the percentage for the department is 71, while the average has been about 75.

It is learned that the Public Library in the neighboring city of Salem has had the same experience in the loss of borrowers, the reduction there being about 4,000.

It would seem from this, that various causes, affecting the whole community, have contributed to this result. Among these may be cited the great conventions of Christian Endeavorers and Knights Templars and several others of lesser note that were held in this vicinity in the summer and fall of 1895. The large and flourishing Woman's Club in our town, turning the minds of many people in new directions, and the increased attention given to rag-doll amusements by our young people of both sexes. Another and perhaps more potent cause, is the publication of cheap editions of the best authors in Fiction, where the copyright has expired. Where one can obtain these works as a gift, or can buy and own them in good readable form for five or ten cents a volume, the most vigorous kind of competition is opened even for a free public library. Books of this kind are now made and sold, or given away, by the hundred thousand. It is satisfactory to note that in the more stable forms of Literature the circulation of the Library has a steady and healthy growth, and that the past year forms no exception to this rule.

The Committee has purchased 608 volumes during the past year—7 less than 1894-5. The gifts to the Library have numbered 98 books—nearly double those of the year before. Adding these, and the bound volumes of magazines to the books already in the Library, and taking out the worn and discarded volumes, the shelves today contain 32,895 volumes.

By an act of Congress, the cost of obtaining the bound volumes of Drawings and Specifications of the U. S. Patent Office, has been increased from $31.50 to $120.00 per year. We have already a collection of 424 volumes of these valuable and much used reports and it seems to be very desirable to continue their purchase. An additional appropriation of about $90 will be necessary for this purpose.

Complaints are occasionally made to the Committee of the difficulty of finding many of the books in the Library from the want of a properly classified and printed catalogue of the more recent additions. It is nearly eight years since the last catalogue was printed. This publication was an excellent and condensed finding-list, compiled and carried through the press by the Librarian, Mr. Upton. The books were classified under 14 general subjects, and about 450 sub-heads, to which a complete and carefully made Index was prepared. This finding-list covered the additions to the Library from June 1, 1878, to June 1, 1888, and included about 8800 volumes. Since the latter date about 6600 books have been added to the Library, that would be included in a new catalogue. It is estimated that a new finding-list upon the same plan as the last one, will make a volume of about 80 pages, and will cost about $400. We have brought this matter to the attention of the Committee because such a catalogue, if made and sold at the low price of the last one—ten cents—would assist greatly in the use of the Library.

The number of enumerated visitors to the Reading Room has been almost exactly the same as for the year 1894-5. The attendance recorded by the Janitor for the latter year, between the hours of 7 and 9 P. M., was 7,129. For the year just closed it has been 6,968. The Sunday visitors have numbered 879 for the year 1895-6, against 888 for the year 1894-5, a difference of only 9.

No case of malicious injury of the newspapers or magazines has been brought to our notice during the past year. One small volume, a "Pocket Dictionary of German and English," is missing from the shelves containing the books of reference, and was probably stolen.

A new periodical, the "American Historical Review," has been subscribed for, and the "Woman's Journal" is sent to us as a gift by the publishers. The local paper, "The Peabody Union," has ceased publication, so that the whole number of periodicals now taken is 62, one more than the year before.

On the 13th of January, 1896, the electric lights were turned on for the first time in the Library and Reading Room. Although the results thus far obtained are not quite up to the standard we anticipated, and which will probably be realized in time, yet it is already a great improvement over the gas lights. The desks and tables are well and sufficiently lighted. The rooms as a whole seem to lack that general illumination which would give them a cheerful appearance and enable one to consult a book in any part with equal facility. This defect, which arises apparently from a want of power in the electric current, has now been remedied to some extent and will no doubt be corrected wholly before long.

For the Committee,

J. H. OSGOOD, Chairman.

LYCEUM COMMITTEE.

TO THE LYCEUM AND LIBRARY COMMITTEE.

The Report of the Lyceum Committee for the season 1895-6, is herein respectfully submitted:

The Lectures in the course this season were selected with the intent of conveying instruction with a certain degree of popularity, and the Committee have every reason to be well satisfied with their efforts.

The number of small cards was cut down and larger lists posted in the public places.

The Lectures were given fortnightly so as to carry them over a longer period.

Mr. Francis T. Upton played the piano for twenty minutes preceding the lectures, thus breaking the monotonous wait for the audience.

The list given below will speak for itself as regards variety of subjects, and the names of the Lecturers are synonyms of the high grade of the Lectures.

Nov. 14. Hon. Wallace Bruce. Subject, "Womanhood in Shakespeare."

Nov. 21. John Temple Graves. Subject, "Uncle Tom's Last Cabin."

Dec. 5. Henry A. Clapp. Subject, "Merchant of Venice."

Dec. 19. Rev. S. J. Barrows. "The Old Greece and the New." [Illustrated.]

Jan. 2. Prof. Louis C. Elson. Subject, "History of National Music."

Jan. 16. Prof. N. S. Shaler. Subject, "Geology of the Sea Shore."

Jan. 30. W. Hinton White. Subject, "A trip to the Antipodes—Australia as it was and is." [Illustrated.]

Feb. 13. Rev. A. A. Willetts, D. D. Subject, "Moonshine."

For the Committee,

FRED W. BUSHBY, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE EBEN DALE SUTTON REFERENCE LIBRARY.

TO THE LYCEUM AND LIBRARY COMMITTEE:

Gifts of bound books have been received from the several departments of the United States and Massachusetts, also from C. S. Balch, D. H. Felton, H. O. Moore, A. Judson, Moses King and the Smithsonian Institute, in all 98 volumes, beside a large number of unbound public documents in paper.

During the past year the demand for works on literature, music, history and other reference books—many of which have been consulted at the Library—has much increased, which doubtless affected the circulation of Fiction, which this year had a smaller per centage of seven-day books.

Bound magazines, before the reading room was located in its present place, had a much larger reading than at present, because the monthly numbers remain unbound two or three months later than formerly, and the numbers are read as soon as received.

The Patent Office Specifications and Drawings end at the volume for March, 1894, and the charge for each whole year is now one hundred and twenty dollars ($120) instead of thirty-one and one-half dollars ($31.50).

The binding of the cheaper books in duck seems to be an improvement over binding in leather, at less expense, and is used here as well as in the largest libraries in the state. About 105 volumes of the Eclectic Magazine and Littell's Living Age were newly backed with this material.

Many of the best bound books sent here by Mr. Peabody have been so damaged by gas and heat that they need repairing. The same may be stated of many newer books.

The last printed list in book form was first used November, 1888. The additions since then have been at first prepared monthly by the cyclostyle or mimeograph, and six copies of the accessions put in binders upon the borrowers' tables. Generally, these are printed monthly and arranged in scrap-book fashion under the different classes and the copies by mimeograph process withdrawn. By the use of the catalogue card case by the assistants, and the mode of publishing the accessions, it is thought that the borrowers obtain their wished-for books as readily as by any other method. Still, a new finding-list prepared for all additions since 1888 is very desirable.

The ventilation of the Reading and Library Rooms is not so good as it should be.

The electrical lighting is well located and lights the cases much better than gas.

J. WARREN UPTON, Librarian.
